

LIKE GHOST STORY ONLY TO IGNORANT

Chaloner Tells of Appearance of Graphic Automatism to Him.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Charlottesville, Va., October 6.—The mental automatism, or inner-conversion with his x-faculty, was treated at length this afternoon by John Armstrong Chaloner, who is making a vigorous fight to have himself declared sane in New York. Through-out this afternoon's session before United States Commissioner Booth, sat the local representatives of the "committee," John B. Moon and William O. Fife, of the firm of Moon & Fife, and Judge R. T. W. Duke, Jr.

Mr. Chaloner sought to prove that graphic automatism was an extremely frequent phenomenon, and that it was impossible to deduce from its presence any conclusions whatever detrimental to the sanity of the person who manifests it.

"It sounds like a ghost story, to the ignorant only," he shouted.

"This graphic automatism first appeared in December, '96," he said, "in my billiard room at Merry Mills, while I was playing pyramid pool. The balls broke in a strange manner, suggesting a map of the heavens. I broke them again, and then a third time, and in each instance in a similar manner, forming circles and curves. This seemed so strange that I took an envelope and a pencil to make a drawing. Behold, when I attempted to draw a billiard ball, my pencil failed to obey my will, and instead wrote three words, 'Get a planchette' (a heart-shaped toy operated in drawing rooms for amusement). Thus," he said, "was my first introduction to this purely hypothetical force." Fatigued, he said, he retired and while lying in bed allowed his hand to write on a tablet. "I am not going to tell what this unknown force which controlled my pencil was," he said, "but I don't have to. I know what it claims to be, and as long as it operates with me, I am satisfied."

"Tipped Off" on Stock.

Continuing, he said the rapid writing kept up for half an hour. Chaloner said he was asked if he desired to be "tipped off" to eighties in the stock market, to which he replied, "Certainly, and if you make good I will give you credit for it."

"How much money have you to invest?" was asked.

"I have about $500 in bank, and am willing to risk that in an experiment to test the clairvoyant faculty of the x-power."

"What kind of stock must I invest in?" Chaloner asked.

"It will be time enough to tell you about that when you reach the broker's office in New York," came back the answer.

Chaloner then narrated how he obeyed the request to order a team and drive to Gordonsville; took the midnight train for Gotham, went to a broker's office two days before Christmas, invested his money and realized as much again. Beyond the satisfaction of determining that the experiment was a success, Chaloner said he never realized any financial benefit from the transaction, since he left the money up, and after he was slapped into Bloomingdale it was drawn out by the late Stanford White.

Chaloner laid emphasis on the fact that he was anti-spiritualistic, saying that his experiment was simply a daring one in the unknown field of psychology.

Knowledge of Bible.

During the deposition Chaloner showed remarkable knowledge of the Bible, gained, he said, from an exhaustive study of it while confined in Bloomingdale.

"It has been a great help to me in the journey over the sea of life. I am a regular old-time Episcopal believer—a thoroughly regular Christian. I believe in the entire thirty-nine articles of the Church of England. I am a believer in old-fashioned religion, and am proud of it."

His study of the Bible, he said, was due to a promise that he had made his mother. "She asked me to read six verses a night until it was finished."

Chaloner scornfully denounced Dr. Moses Starr for criticizing him in March, 1897, for having in his possession a Bible that was "all marked up." He stated that he frequently took a Bible with him in his travels.

DAUGHTERS END ANNUAL SESSION

Elect Officers and Appropriate $100 for Daniel Monument.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Roanoke, Va., October 6.—The Virginia Division, Daughters of the Confederacy, in annual session here to-night, elected officers for the year, as follows: President, Mrs. A. A. Campbell, Wythe county; First Vice-President, Miss Nannie D. Kennett, Norfolk; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Elizabeth Neely, Portsmouth; Third Vice-President, Mrs. Sallie Dowell, Charlottesville; Fourth Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, Norfolk; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Peyton B. Green, Wythe county; Treasurer, Mrs. S. A. F. Dick, Smithfield; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frank Holliday, Suffolk; Registrar, Mrs. J. E. H. Bell, Pulaski; Historian, Miss Sallie Dowell, Charlottesville; Recorder of Crosses, J. E. Alexander, Alexandria; Custodian of Badges, Mrs. James Mercer Garland, Baltimore. Following the election the convention adjourned.

A resolution introduced by Mrs. James Scott, of Lynchburg, providing for the erection of a monument to be erected to the late Major John W. Daniel, "The Lone Lion of Virginia," was adopted. The resolution carried with it an appropriation of $100. The monument is to be erected in Lynchburg. The resolution was carried unanimously, and the mention of the name of the late soldier and statesman electrified the convention, and the applause following the vote was most enthusiastic. A resolution was adopted providing that the Virginia Division be chartered and that a committee be appointed to secure the charter.

It was shown clearly to-day that the Daughters are not at all pleased with the appointments made by the veteran camps and the Sons of Veterans when they made their selections of sponsors to attend Confederate reunions. Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke introduced a resolution providing that the division position the veteran camps and Sons of Veterans and ask that they appoint none other than members of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. Walke, spoke in advocacy of her resolution, saying that the chapters had a number of young girls who worked hard for the good of the organization, and in her opinion the honor and pleasure of being sponsor to reunions should fall to this lot of these. Mrs. Norman Randolph answered Mrs. Walke, saying she agreed heartily with the resolution, but she knew that the veterans would not adhere to the request.

"Those old soldiers would do anything for a pretty girl, whether she be a member of the Daughters or not," said Mrs. Randolph, amid laughter.

Another delegate mentioned that the by-laws of the veteran camps provided that none but daughters of Confederate soldiers should be sponsors, and further these daughters must be members of some chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. Walke's resolution was adopted unanimously.

SHOOT AT THIEF

Night Secretary at Railroad Y. M. C. A. Fires Upon Unidentified Man.

When he attempted to steal a box, containing two hats, which was lying on the desk in the lobby of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., this morning about 1:45 o'clock, an unidentified sneak thief missed his calculations. He was seen to enter the place by Russell Fletcher, secretary, who was playing pool, observing the actions of the man. Mr. Fletcher ran from the billiard room, drawing a revolver, and fired at him. He called to the stranger to halt but instead of doing so the latter dropped the hat and ran. The secretary fired at him once, but the bullet missed its mark, and the thief escaped. He was said to be about thirty-five years old.

Some Minor Arraigs.

Pinkey Walker, colored, seventeen years old, was arrested last night on a charge of stealing $1.75 from Wesley Gibbs.

Irving Kirby, arrested several days ago on suspicion of being implicated in the hold-up and robbery of Solomon Harwood yesterday, served with a warrant charging him specifically with the crime.

South Melapomoh, colored, was arrested on a charge of dispensing liquor to Sissie Hill, a minor.

tion as an element in this country. It is impossible then, let us go to socialism, for there is no way between. I, for one, am not discouraged as yet in the hope that we may return to a legitimate and independent competition. I am an individualist and not a Socialist."

Mr. Taft then pleaded for kinder feeling between various elements of the community. He declared the business of "muckraking" would cease if people would disregard the attacks upon the motive and character of those exercising authority, and ascribe to them the motives which are shown to be proper.

"It is good times, it is prosperity," the President concluded, "when people are happy when wages are good, when prices are normal, when the family has shoes and something to eat, and the children go to school. These are times when everybody is happy."

Mr. Taft said the company were entitled to proper treatment, and should be saved from the attacks of the demagogue, the man who would seek by the position of his voice to climb over his shoulders into popular esteem.
